

General Doubt Over Situation in Northwest

—David Lawrence

Copyright 1934, by the Janesville Gazette-Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Enroute to San Francisco—Coming out of the northwest after a tour of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington and Oregon, the presidential contest appears at the moment to have this curious character—hardly anyone here that the result, if the election were held tomorrow, would be the same as it will be on election day.

The drift toward the La Follette ticket was first to get under way. The third party supporters are making more noise and seem to be more active than their opponents. But they have reached their peak in strength. At the moment that is enough for them to carry virtually all of the northwest states with the exception of Oregon. It is therefore a question henceforth of La Follette holding his own against the desperate battle being waged by the Coolidge forces to recover lost ground.

John W. Davis is at present writing third in the race in the states aforementioned, but his strength is developing every day. Doubtless, Davis will win his votes in this region for what Davis said is regarded as Rooseveltian in its directness and vehemence.

Norwegian Lutherans to Celebrate Founding of First Church at Bergen

Bergen, Wis., four miles south of Clinton, where the first Norwegian Lutheran minister settled when he came from his native country to spread the gospel, is this week celebrating the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the local church, now known as the Jefferson Prairie Evangelical Lutheran church.

A program of a week's duration will culminate Sunday and will attract the attention of hundreds of Lutherans from southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, as well as many ministers. Bergen has a large place in the hearts of Norwegian Lutherans, for in addition to being the place where the Rev. Olaf Nielsen, first Norwegian Lutheran minister in North America, came when he landed in 1839, it is also the birthplace of the first synod in America, the Nielsen synod, and the Augustana synod, the latter being today one of the largest in this country.

Dedication of Monument
Another important event in Bergen will be held during the coming year when the dedication is held for the monument that will mark the place where the Augustana synod was born in 1850. This is the appropriate manner in which the synod voted at its meeting in June at Peoria, Ill., to keep green the memory of the place where it had its inception.

The Jefferson Prairie Evangelical Lutheran church, stands today as the outgrowth of three Lutheran churches that have served its members in the vicinity of Bergen to the 50 years that have elapsed since the first Lutheran congregation was formed by the Rev. Mr. Nielsen. It is a part of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America, as it has been since the consolidation in 1917 of the United church, the Norwegian synod and the Augustana synod.

Came to U. S. in 1839
To know the story of the Jefferson Prairie church is to learn the evolutionary course the Lutheran church has followed since the Rev. Mr. Nielsen came to Wisconsin. Eiling Nielsen came to the United States in 1839, from Norway, and was ordained Oct. 3, 1842 by the Rev. P. A. Hoffman. It is told of Nielsen that he walked from Chicago to New York to get printed the three books, "The Explanation of the Catechism," "The Truth into Godliness," and "The Augsburg Confession."

He came to Jefferson Prairie and held his church services at a meeting house. He was expelled from 1842 to 1872. On April 12 and 13, 1846 he organized the first synod in America, called the Evangelical Lutheran church in America, commonly known as the Nielsen synod. This synod still lives today but has but five pastors.

Dwelling Still Stands
The little dwelling used by Nielsen both for a residence and college parlors still stands two miles southeast of Clinton. Nielsen died in 1882.

Though Nielsen's church did not endure until the amalgamation of three churches into the present one in 1896, he however is recognized as the first pastor and founder of the Jefferson Prairie church.

The other churches on Jefferson Prairie during the period between 1846 and 1896 were the Lutheran church on Jefferson Prairie, of the Norwegian synod; the Lutheran church of the Augustana synod, and the Lutheran church of the synod known as "The Conference."

Chosen First Pastor
The first of these, the Norwegian synod church, came into being in 1846 with the Rev. C. L. Clausen as pastor. Clausen, it will be remembered, was one of the first three Norwegian Lutheran ministers in America, having come to Muskegon in 1843. The Rev. J. W. Dietrichson came to Koshkonong

REV. OLAF NIELSEN.

The Rev. Olaf Nielsen, present pastor of the Jefferson Prairie Lutheran church, having come here last year, is the leading figure in the 50th anniversary celebration.

He was educated in the Augustana college, St. Olaf college, from which he was graduated in 1858. He spent three years at the universities of Minnesota and South Dakota. His first pastorate was in northeastern Kansas from 1862 and 1869. From then until 1922 he was pastor of the Vermillion, S. Dak., Lutheran church located at the doors of the University of South Dakota.

He came here in June, 1923, and the present stands and flourishing condition of the church is a credit to his pastorate.

Skoponong church near Koshkonong in September 1844.

O. J. Hattestad was first pastor of the Augustana synod church, established here in 1850. He served six years and was succeeded by the Rev. Ole Anderson who served 23 years. He was pastor when the Augustana synod was born here in 1850.

Three Churches United
When the three churches on Jefferson Prairie were united in the present church on Oct. 2, 1896, it joined the United Norwegian Lutheran church, a church body organized first year through consolidation of the Norwegian Augustana synod, the anti-Missourian Brotherhood, and the conference, the three church bodies to which the three local churches had belonged.

Since 1896 the church has been served by the Rev. J. H. Roseland 1896-1899; Rev. C. M. Westwig 1899-05; G. A. Larsen 1905-12; John Peterson 1912-23 and Rev. Olaf Nielsen, the present pastor.

Six Pastors Living
Six pastors who served Jefferson Prairie churches are still living. These are the Revs. E. Jensen, George Rasmussen, J. C. Roseland, C. M. Westwig, G. A. Larsen and John Peterson.

Mr. Jensen is living in the Lutheran home for the aged at Stoughton. Mr. Rasmussen is holding a pastorate at Harmony. Mr. Roseland is preaching in a Philadelphia church, and the Rev. Mr. Westwig is a professor of historical theology in the seminary, as he has been since 1907. He was a chaplain at the Great Lakes naval training station during the world war.

The Rev. Mr. Larsen became home mission superintendent when he left Jefferson Prairie and is now serving a church at Lehigh, N. D. The Rev. Mr. Peterson is at Minneapolis, being sole editor of a Sunday school paper, "The Children's Friend," and acting editor in chief of a young people's paper, called "Our Young People."

Pastors of the different churches

The Lutheran church of the Augustana synod had the following pastors: O. J. Hattestad, 1850-56; Ole Anderson, 1856-85; J. C. Roseland, 1885-91.

The Lutheran church of the conference synod, J. H. Simonson, 1869-71; J. Moller-Eggen, 1873-75; H. M. Wang, 1875-80; G. J. Omi, 1880-82.

The Norwegian synod congregation built a church in 1841 and this remained until 1902, when replaced by the one the present congregation occupies. The Norwegian synod church stood a mile east of Bergen on the Wisconsin side of the state line. Their pastorage is the place now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Lantieri.

The present church was built at a cost of $10,500 and was considered one of the finest rural churches in the state when constructed. The pastorage that stands west of the road a block south of the state line was constructed in 1929 at a cost of $2,500.

BLACKMAN TOURS EUROPE BY PLANE

Parker Sales Chief Home—Says England Likes Daves Plan.

Building encouraging reports concerning the manner in which England has received the Daves plan, Horace Blackman, sales manager of the Parker Pen company, is back in Janesville after two months abroad spent in establishing the Parker Pen Limited in London.

Mr. Blackman arrived home Thursday afternoon, landing in New York Monday on the Leviathan, along with William Gilus MacAdoo, and the Prince of Siam. He sailed from the United States July 15.

While England favors the Daves plan with favor, it, however, regards it as one which will be more beneficial to Germany, and requiring financing by the British. Mr. Blackman said, it is, however, looking further ahead to the time when the stabilization of Germany will bring prosperity in Russia, and will mean a large market for British goods in these two countries.

To Paris by Airplane
Europe is far ahead of the United States in the use of aviation as a means of transportation. Mr. Blackman said. He found great places carrying passengers comfortably from one country to another. He flew from London to Paris and from Brussels to London. It cost less by train and saved many hours.

"It's a great way to see the country," said Mr. Blackman, who was granted one interesting experience in being crowded out of one plane, on route to London and watching the attendant telephone in one plane in the air to stop and send him to the end and the pilot were the only passengers.

The pilot, with four years' experience, showed him the Belgian battlefields as they flew overhead. In England is good as far as the pen business is concerned.

Mr. Blackman said, "The Parker Pen Limited, which will be used to open the business on the continent, is established with offices in the Strand in London, and a force of 10 salesmen employed."

Donald Kora and Carl Schmitt, manager and assistant manager for the Parker Pen company, will be joined by their wives in a few weeks, the latter having sailed Saturday from New York.

Other members of the Parker Pen party that went abroad to assist in establishing the new branch are on route home. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Crowell sailed Sept. 20 and should arrive in New York this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker, sailed from England Friday.

NURSERY IS FILLING BIG NEED

Is Only One of Many Worth-while Activities of Salvation Army.

"If you had two babies of your own and somebody brought you 14 more to take care of, what would you do?" was a question propounded by Mrs. P. Bennett to Salvation Army drive workers gathered for a pre-Christmas dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night. Mrs. Bennett then called upon Mrs. Captain George Hoyle to answer the question, which she proceeded to do in a modest manner.

It has been pretty hard at times to care for the children," said Mrs. Hoyle, "because of the crowded quarters and lack of facilities. We have had insufficient help much of the time, and I have been tempted more than once to close the nursery, but when I thought of what the nursery means to the mothers whose children we care for, and of the fact that the community in this work, I felt that I must struggle through somehow.

Makes Families Self-Supporting. "Not only are the mothers whose children we care for kept from starving, but we believe that it is worth while to help people get ahead a little so that when sickness or misfortune comes they will not have to depend on charity. The day nursery prevents the need of direct charity and helps people to take care of their own children, and have children registered at the nursery are thereby enabled to be self-supporting, and if it wasn't for the nursery, which makes it possible for the mothers to work, most of these families would be dependent on the county or other charitable agencies."

Mrs. Hoyle recently checked over the "report" that published in the report of the postmaster as filed with the county board and found that of 26 families that have children registered at the day nursery, but received aid from the county last year, and these had received only a small amount of aid, as compared with the aid given to other families. It is Mrs. Hoyle's opinion that with better day nursery quarters, adequate help and a properly organized system of co-operation between local churches and day nurseries, a number of families now receiving a large amount of public relief, could be made self-supporting, as are nearly all of the families now making use of day nurseries.

Report of Nursery. The day nursery report for the year is as follows:

Babies opened	250
Families registered	250
Children enrolled	47
Av. daily attendance	11
Total days attendance	2,810
Av. hours of daily care	10
Children-hours of service	25,334
Fees paid by mothers	$450.00
Balance supplied	$1,789.00

Average cost per day to run the nursery, including rent, light, heat, supplies, food, outfit and upkeep, $6.12. Total earnings of mothers, made possible by operation of nursery, $5,000.00.

Suitable quarters for the nursery, and additional equipment are regarded as absolutely necessary. The purchase of a residence would provide the children with a yard to play in, fresh air, sunshine, and a quiet neighborhood. They are now housed for in three rooms over the Salvation Army hall on North Main street, which provides none of these essentials.

The budget of $6,700 which the Salvation Army needs to make during the coming year, includes an item for an initial payment on a residence to be used for officers and day nursery quarters.

Many campaign organizers, also addressed the Friday night dinner meeting. He called attention to the many other activities of the Salvation Army both locally and throughout the world. He said that the Army is the largest service organization in the world, being organized in 83 countries besides the United States. The Army maintains 255 service institutions in the United States. He stressed the value of the evangelistic work of the Army, that the local corps reported a total of 15 Christian conversions for the past year.

"If you know the value of a soul, you can estimate what these 15 conversions mean," he said. "These people do not join the Salvation Army, but are encouraged to join some church, either Catholic or Protestant. The Salvation Army takes hold of the men and women who have lost hope and who have wandered far from the better things of life and inspires them to make a new start."

Mr. Hoyle urged that solicitors have nothing to apologize for in asking for donations to the work of the Salvation Army, and suggested that a "penny a day" be sought as the minimum gift.

E. J. Sartell, chairman of the business district canvass, said that

JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS ON SUNDAY

Sunset of Sunday marks the Jewish New Year, the beginning of the year 5685 from the creation of the world, according to the traditional religious reckoning. For all ordinary purposes the civil calendar is used by Jews as well as Christians.

The Jewish New Year differs from the civil New Year, in being purely a religious festival. It is not the time for dating documents, neither is it a time for extravagant parties. It is a day of solemn prayer, as well as a day of happiness and fasting.

The New Year and Atonement season is a revival period among the Jews when all of them, orthodox and liberal alike, attend the synagogue, whatever may be their attitude through the year.

The RADIO PROGRAM

Radio Week Programs

One of the many interesting features of the international broadcasting tests scheduled for the week of November 24-30 is the probable re-broadcasting of French, Dutch, German and Swiss radio programs by the stations of the British Broadcasting company, according to an announcement made today by Arthur H. Lynch, editor of "Radio Broadcast," the magazine arranging the international tests. The stations of the British Broadcasting company will have special programs arranged for the benefit of American radio listeners during the tests. But Capt. West, assistant chief engineer of the British radio center, plans to give the American listener additional thrills by re-broadcasting continental programs.

"Many inquiries have come in to us asking why it is not possible to hear the British and continental radio stations without a special test week," said Mr. Lynch. "The answer is simple, for the foreign stations operate on practically the same wave length as the American stations. Allowing for that and the difference in time, it is not possible to hear the English stations when the American broadcasters are on the air. This year, the second of the trans-Atlantic broadcasting tests arranged to have the stations of all the American stations and those of the foreign stations are sending."

Exhibits of several of the better known publishing companies are also expected. Some attempt to promote the reading of books by children will also be made through the schools. It is expected the week is sponsored by library associations and publishing houses with the double purpose of creating a desire for good books among children and as a suggestive Christmas gift item.

Football Season Starts Saturday

The second greatest of all outdoor sports and to some considered the greatest, gets under way for the 1921 season on Saturday.

Football, King of the Fall, and emperor of all college and west will be the race for the mythical title of the western conference—the Big Ten. Then come the numerous smaller conferences such as the Little Five in Wisconsin and the normal school conference of the state. Lastly, but of highest interest locally, is the series of games by high schools.

Though none of the Big Ten teams meet in conference on Saturday, three of the eleven will be in action in preliminary games scheduled to test their ability and point out weak spots that will necessarily have to be strengthened before the real season starts, two weeks hence.

The University of Wisconsin will meet North Dakota at Madison on Saturday. The Badgers are expected to win, but they will be in the line of the daily practice of the past two weeks give that indication. The backfield has been developed toward that end and has become proficient in passing with accuracy.

Line May Be Weak. Possible weakness at Wisconsin is in the line. It is not as yet brought out anything especially exceptional. The only other conference teams in action Saturday will be Purdue and Indiana. Purdue will meet Wabash and Indiana will battle Rose Poly.

Beloit college opens the season on Saturday, against Northwestern at Beloit. Northwestern is not the smashing team of the past two years with a new spirit and a vision of greater things in athletics has been awakened.

In the American association, Peoria of Milwaukee is taking the lead with a mark of 362 in batting. He passed Nunn, St. Paul who has 357. 404,645 Targets

It has just been announced that in the recent Grand American trapshooting tournament held at Dayton, Ohio, a total of 404,645 targets were thrown. A record number for this trapshooting classic. A field of 515 gunners took part, marking from all parts of the United States and Canada taking part. According to the official figures there was an average of 785 targets thrown for each marksman participating. It is the belief of the officials of the trapshooting association that before many years have passed the half million mark in targets thrown will be surpassed.

WISCONSIN BEATS ILLINOIS BEFORE SEASON STARTS

Madison—Wisconsin has beaten Illinois "Tomb" Crawford, three sport athlete at Madison City, Ill. high school is the direct cause of the Crawford victory over the school which is situated in the realm of Small.

Illinois wanted Crawford, an amateur choice of the Crawford newspapers for all-state half-back and a star basketball and basketball player, so somebody urged him to enroll at the Crawford institution.

On the way to Illinois, Crawford passed through Madison, and Harold Elvey, Madison real estate agent, learned of the case, met the boy at the station here and convinced him that the advantages of being a Badger were better than those of being a Sucker.

Consequently, Crawford is going to do his bit for Wisconsin athletes. He enrolled here and will become a candidate for football when the freshmen are called out to practice.

Irish Boundry Line, Dispute As Far From Settlement, As Ever

With Ulster still refusing to appoint a representative on the Irish boundry commission, provided for in the Anglo-Irish treaty, settlement of the boundry dispute is as far away as ever. Sir James Craig (above) refuses to have anything to do with the commission because Ulster was not a party to the treaty. He has offered to settle the matter by private agreement with President Cosgrave of the Free State (below). Cosgrave wants the commission to settle the question.

Hot Springs Suffers When Third Tornado Hits Arkansas

St. Luke's Episcopal church, in Hot Springs, Ark., was leveled to the ground when the third tornado of the year swept down from the west. The roof of the large, Eastman hotel was carried away.

Birdie Reeve, 17-year-old St. Louis, Mo., girl, has compiled eight dictionaries. She is master of 64,000 words in English.

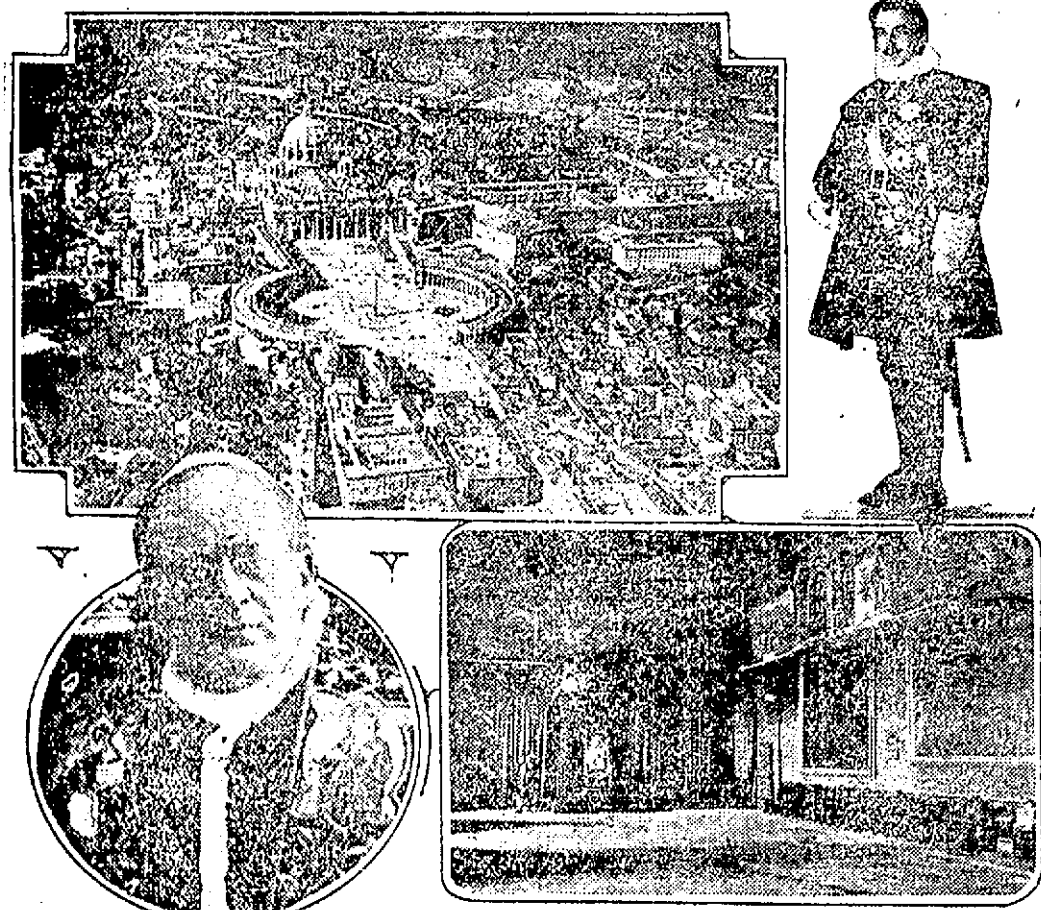

Not daunted by Gaston B. Means' repudiation of his testimony against the former attorney general, Harry Daugherty, and Means' reported repudiation of his testimony, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, leader of the Daugherty probe committee, is continuing to press his attack on Daugherty and the Republicans in his campaign in behalf of the La Follette presidential party, of which he is the vice presidential candidate. He is shown with Mrs. Wheeler in Chicago.

Pastor and Woman, Love Slayers, Guarded From Mob

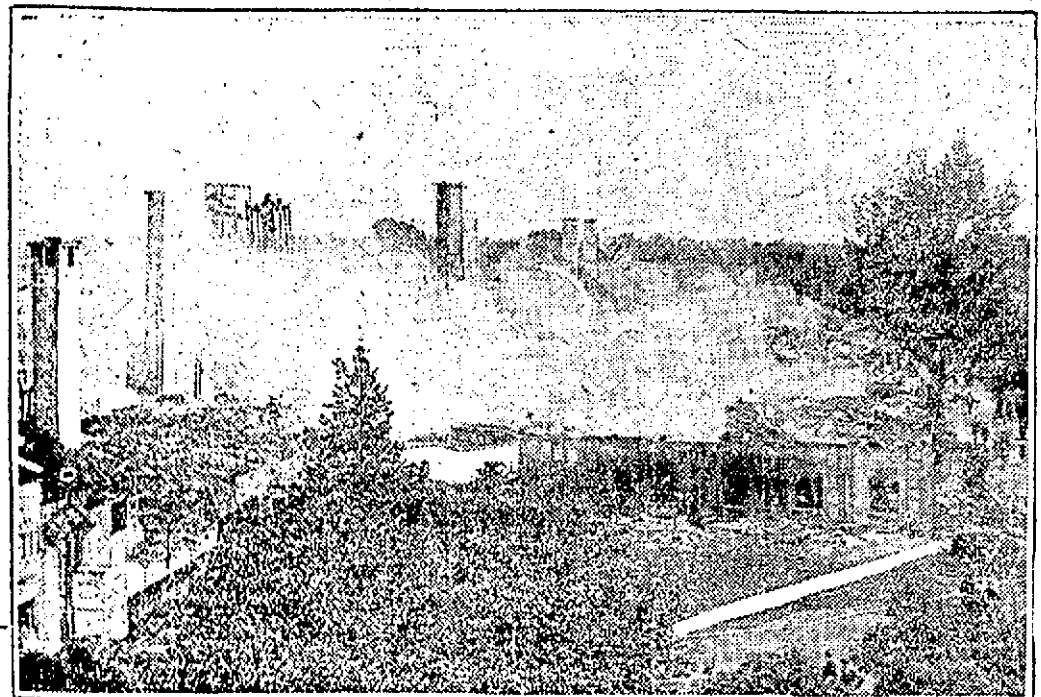

"Mob justice" is feared by authorities in Mount Vernon, Ill., in the cases of the Rev. Lawrence Hight and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, who confessed that they were responsible for the deaths by poison of Hight's wife and Mrs. Sweetin's husband, and the prisoners are being closely guarded. Above, Hight (left) is shown being questioned by (left to right) Coroner Jesse A. Reese, Sheriff Grant Holcomb and State's Attorney Frank G. Thompson. Below is a reproduction of a photo showing Hight with a young woman whom he refuses to name and (right) a photo of Wilford Sweetin, one of the victims.

Rome to Be Mecca of Catholics In 1925, Holy Year

Rome is preparing for visits from thousands of Roman Catholic pilgrims from all over the world in 1925, which has been proclaimed a jubilee or holy year by Pope Pius XI. Above is an air-plane view of St. Peter's, showing (at left) the Vatican gardens; and at right, the Marquis Sacchetti, major domo of the Vatican, one of the picturesque uniformed officials, who will receive the throngs of visitors. The pope is shown below at left; at right is a view of the papal throne room.

$1,000,000 Fire Evicts Society Notables in Night

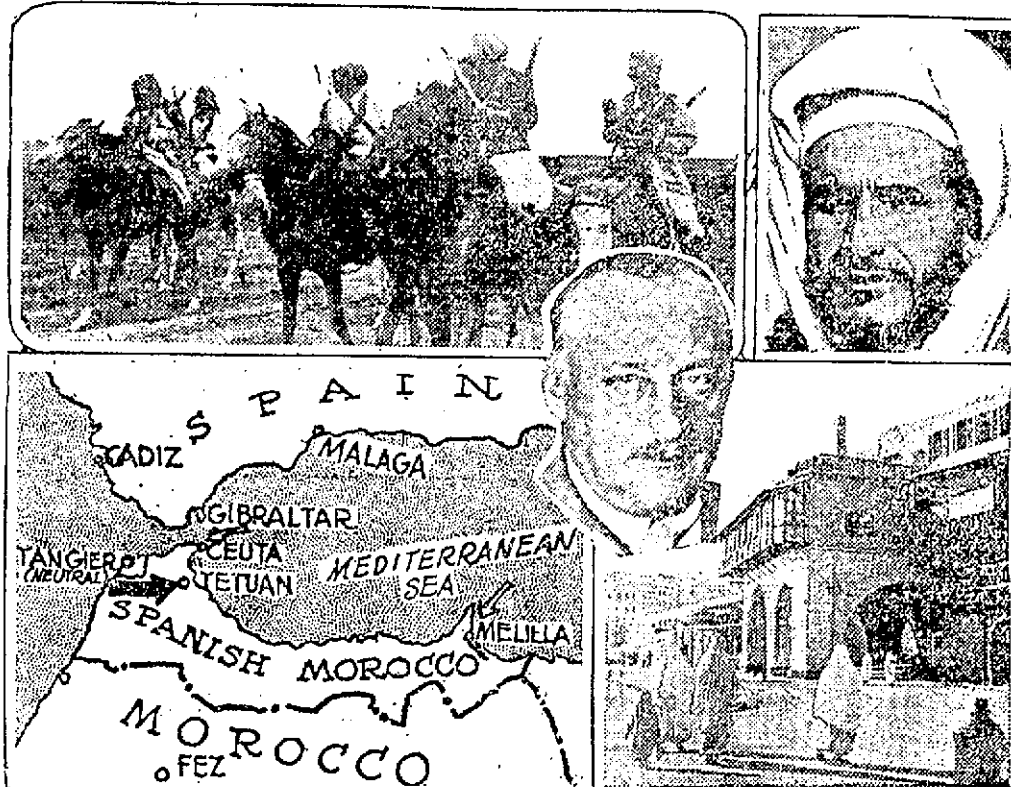

Persons prominent in society were forced to flee in the night for their lives when fire attacked the Gedney Farms Hotel, on the outskirts of White Plains, in Westchester county, New York. No one was hurt, however. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The photo shows the ruins at daybreak.

June Zeiser (left), 21, and her sister, Cecilia, 25, offer to be the best "wives in the world" to men willing to pay off a $3,500 mortgage on their mother's 60-acre farm near Milwaukee, Wis. The heroes, or hero, must act quickly, however, as a sheriff's sale looms. The girls live at 741 Briar Place, Chicago.

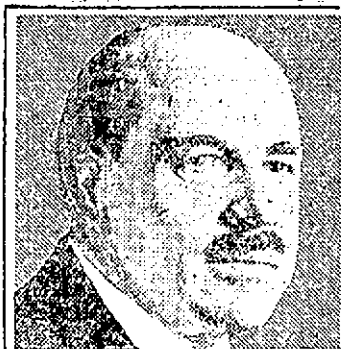

Spanish Defeat In Morocco Creates European Peril

The final chapter of the Spanish war in Morocco seems imminent, and international complications are threatened, as well as the end of Primo de Rivera's government in Spain. The success of the rebellious Rif tribesmen is undermining the prestige of France Italy and Great Britain in north Africa. Tangier, international city, is in peril, with its native population in sympathy with Abdel Krim and many of them joining his forces. Above are seen a typical group of Rif tribesmen, and a closeup of their leader, Abdel Krim; below, a map showing the trouble, a photo of Primo de Rivera, and a view of Tangier.

"Pretty girls don't hang." These words, with shrugs and smiles are all that Anna "Peggy" Valanis (left) and her flapper friend, Lucille Marshall, have to say about the murder charge brought against them in Chicago. They are accused of helping Anthony Valanis (left) and William Lydon (right) kill a woman, with robbery as an object.

From Germany comes the report that Oskar Herzt probably will be the next chancellor of Germany.

REAL IRISH LACE FASHIONS POCKETS FOR WHITE DRESS

This simple dress of white crepe de chine uses Irish picot to trim the four tiers of the skirt and the collar. Twin pockets of Irish crochet are fastened just above the belt.

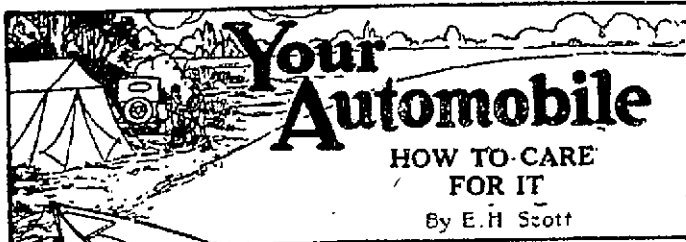

The prettiest girl in the mid-west is Miss Margaret Leigh of Chicago, judges in a national beauty contest at Atlantic City decided.

Resentful of the "slacker's oath" being circulated by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Mrs. Ames A. Fries, wife of the chief of the chemical warfare service, U. S. army, has written a song, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Slacker."

MOTORIST'S

What You Should Know About Chassis Lubrication

During the last few weeks I have been giving you some pointers on what to inspect when buying a used car. If you have read these articles, you will have noticed that the mechanical condition of the car was of even more importance than the outside appearance.

If you have been careless about watching the level of the oil in the crankcase and allowed it to get too low at times, the engine may have run so hot that one or more of the cylinders have become scored. When this happens you have trouble with the spark plugs fouling and causing the engine to misfire. At the same time you find the engine has to have the carbon removed frequently.

When you sell your car, if the buyer knows how to inspect it, he soon discovers the scored cylinder and you find it very difficult to make a sale. If you are careful to keep the oil in the crankcase at the correct level all the time, you not only keep the engine in good condition, but find it much easier to sell or trade in your car.

Next in importance to the lubrication of the engine is the lubrication of the steering gears and front axle connections. Most owners are careful to watch the lubrication of the engine but comparatively few worry very much about other parts of the car. Just go out to your car and have a look at the steering knuckle pins, spring shackles, king pins, etc., and at least eight out of ten are going to find that the connections are covered with a coating of dry, hard grease and dirt, and have not been touched for some considerable time. If you take out the pins or bolts and examine them, you will find more than likely find they are quite dry and innocent of lubrication. If the car has been in service for six months or more, you will also find that the connections are beginning to get a little worn or loose.

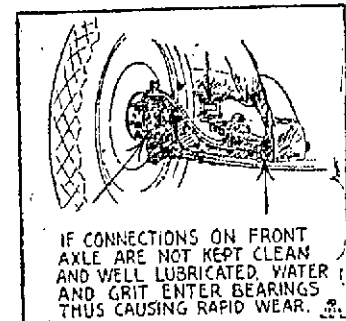

Before long you notice that your car develops a series of noisy rattles and groans that are very annoying. All connections that are exposed under the car must be lubricated very frequently to prevent water and grit working in. When you screw down a grease cup or force the grease in with a gun, you not only lubricate the bearing but you also force out any dirt that may have found its way into the bearing since the last time you lubricated it.

Every day you read of automobile accidents. It might surprise you to know that a number of these are the direct result of lack of lubrication. If the lubrication of the steering gear is neglected, it soon makes the steering stiff. Perhaps at the critical moment you have to act quickly to avoid an accident and find the steering is so stiff that you cannot turn quickly enough.

If the lubrication of such parts as the steering knuckles and wheels are neglected, the bearings soon become worn. These parts are subjected to a considerable amount of jarring and vibration and if they are worn badly, the vibration causes them to crystallize and become brittle. When this action continues for a long time, it is liable, when you strike an obstruction or deep rut, to cause the wheel spindle or the steering knuckle to break. If the wheel spindle breaks, the wheel comes off. If a steering knuckle breaks, you lose control of the car. In either case a serious accident is practically unavoidable.

Remember wear cannot take place if the bearing surfaces are kept apart, and all that grease or oil does to form a film or cushion of oil in the bearing which prevents the metal surfaces coming together. When you neglect to keep a part well oiled or greased, the two surfaces make a metal to metal contact, they wear each other.

If all parts of the chassis are lubricated regularly, they will give little, if any trouble, and only require replacing at long intervals. You will find in the instruction book you got with your car, a lubrication chart which specifies how often to lubricate each part. If you follow these instructions you will find your car will run smoother and quieter and your repair bills for replacements will be few. In addition to this, when you wish to sell your car, it will be in such a condition that it will command a good figure.

IF CONNECTIONS ON FRONT AXLE ARE NOT KEPT CLEAN AND WELL LUBRICATED, WATER AND GRIT ENTER BEARINGS, THUS CAUSING RAPID WEAR.

WHEN LUBRICATING CONNECTIONS EXPOSED TO ROAD SPLASH, FORCE GREASE THROUGH UNTIL IT SQUEEZES OUT AT BOTH ENDS OF BEARING, THIS WILL CLEAN AS WELL AS LUBRICATE IT.
